

JAMESTOWN RED RAIDERS

2006-07 MALE ATHLETE OF THE YEAR

Dominique Kendrick

Our male athlete of the year was had a winter to remember! As a result of a relentless off-season regimen, this young man transformed himself into a shooting and scoring machine, leading the Red Raiders basketball team to an 18-5 record. He averaged 25.4 points per game, the 4th best in school history and finished with 886 career points, placing him 9th on the school's all-time list. In addition, he broke 3 three-point records, all of which should stand for some time. He made 11 3's in a single game, made 110 3's for the season (more than 5 made per game), which more than doubled the previous single season record, and he made 164 career 3's. In addition, he was named first team All-ECIC, 2nd team All-Western New York, 7th Team All-State, and was the Post-Journal Player of the Year. For his accomplishments, he was awarded a scholarship and is headed to Nazareth College in the fall to continue his basketball career.
